

TV has changed since 1992—its laws haven't.

Since 2010, millions of Americans have seen dark screens instead of watching their favorite channels due to more than 1,000 broadcaster-initiated blackouts. It is time to bring our nation's ancient video laws in line with the reality of today.

SUPPORT THE SCALISE-ESHOO MODERN TELEVISION ACT

Paid for by

